FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

. New urban rental regime

What is this?

The growing demand for rent due the construction and real estate market crisis, as well as the absence of affordable rental offers have made that the urban rental reformation was assumed as a priority goal in the housing domain.

This new regime has brought about several measures aiming at boosting the rental market, among which one must emphasise the greater freedom of the stipulation by the parties of the contracts duration and the greater importance of the negotiation between the parties of the old rents updating.
